GALEO Applauds

Dear Jerry,

Only a short year ago, the Georgia Association of Latino Elected Officials was initiated to provide another voice to the growing Latino community in the state of Georgia. This is our first anniversary as an organization.

GALEO's Mission Statement reads:

The Georgia Association of Latino Elected Officials (GALEO) is established to increase representation of Latino/Hispanic elected and appointed officials, to proactively address the issues and needs of the Latino community, and to engage the Latino/Hispanic community in the democratic and policy process across the State of Georgia.

We have expanded our Board of Directors, accounting for additional Latino elected officials we have in the state of Georgia. Our work at GALEO is only beginning. Unfortunately, the numbers speak for themselves. There are well over 3,800 county and state level elected officials in Georgia. The Latino community can count on one hand the number of elected officials at this level: one State Senator, two State Representatives, and two State Court Judges. Additionally, we have two city council members of Latino descent.

Despite these challenges, we have been able to accomplish significant progress this year. For example, we have initiated, participated and completed a statewide voter registration and voter education campaign, Georgia Latino Vote 2004. Through these efforts, we partnered with the National Association of Latino Elected Officials (NALEO) and identified an additional 50,000 Latinos in our state voter registration database. Based on this finding, the total number of Latino registered voters stands at approximately 77,000. Additionally, we were able to highlight the 90% phenomenal growth rate for Latino voter registrations statewide. Through our partner voter registration teams, an additional 4,000 voters were registered for the upcoming elections.

GALEO is also proud to be spearheading efforts to provide Leadership Plenty, in collaboration with the Pew Partnership for Civic Change and Kennesaw State University. The Leadership Plenty curriculum will be implemented through the state in targeted Latino communities through the work of dedicated trainers and volunteers. GALEO served as a partner for the national roll out of the program to be conducted in Spanish. Trainers for Leadership Plenty who are able to conduct the leadership training in Spanish are located in Georgia through the collaborative efforts of GALEO, the Governor’s Latino Commission for a New Georgia and Kennesaw State University.

GALEO has been active in the community and will continue its active role in providing leadership for many of the issues that directly impact Latinos in Georgia. GALEO is considered a strong pioneer for state development of the Latino community since there is no other organization like GALEO anywhere in the country. To that end, GALEO has had discussions with NALEO about the possibility of working with other states to allow for GALEO to serve as a model for future development in emerging Latino communities.

We are very proud of the successes and achievements GALEO has been able to accomplish in such a short time of only one year. However, we cannot do this without the continued support from our community, our business partners, our supporting organizations, and supporting individuals. With this in mind, we are asking supporters of the Latino community to contribute to the great work we are doing and become members of GALEO.

As we complete our first year, GALEO is proud to have taken such an instrumental role in the community’s continued development. Thank you for your time and please do not hesitate to contact me should you have any questions.

Thank you,

Jerry Gonzalez

Text from Presidential Debate Question on Immigration

Presidential Debate, October 13, 2004

SCHIEFFER: Let's go to a new question, Mr. President.

I got more e-mail this week on this question than any other question. And it is about immigration.

I'm told that at least 8,000 people cross our borders illegally every day. Some people believe this is a security issue, as you know. Some believe it's an economic issue. Some see it as a human-rights issue.

How do you see it? And what do we need to do about it?

Welcome South, amigo: George Wallace wouldn’t know which schoolhouse door to stand in front of Get used to the term "majority-minority," even if it doesn't make the strictest sense.

If no group is a majority, it stands to reason there wouldn’t be any minorities, because one word depends on the other. But "majority-minority" has become the way of describing those places where the rapid growth of Hispanics - and Asians, to a lesser degree - has cost whites or blacks their welter-weight ranking.

Elected Officials Should Know Better

By: Jerry Gonzalez

In the City of Doraville, Latinos make up approximately 43% of the population. In 2003, Doraville witnessed an historic event; its citizens elected Jason Anavitarte, a Latino, to became the first Latino and the youngest person ever elected to the city council in the city’s 132-year history.

Despite the recent progress of having a more representative city government, remarks and attitudes displayed by fellow Doraville council members and the Doraville mayor demonstrate the tension that exists within the community. Council Member Lamar Lang called Latinos "freeloaders", insulting the large percentage of residents in the city who are Latino and who pay taxes through property taxes or sales taxes. The Latino community makes the City of Doraville a viable and growing city in the metro Atlanta area. The Latino contributions to the city and state should not be minimized or demeaned.
