Our community organizers were busy attending different events with our Latino communities throughout Georgia!

We engaged in community clean-up and embellishment activities at Forest Park. In Gainesville, we presented at a Spanish-English immersion at World Language Academy Middle School. We had the chance to discuss their role in GALEO and why we must promote civic engagement within our Latino Community. In Fulton County, we met at a Town Hall with our Latino families at the Palmetto Elementary School. We had the chance to connect with parents about school safety and ways to get involved in their children's education. At the Capitol of Georgia, we were present for Environmental Justice Day and issued a call to action for lawmakers to enact clean air and water policies. Also, we participated in a special students program at the King Center, where different schools in metro Atlanta went for a day. Kudos to King Center; it promotes Martin Luther King Jr teachings and positively impacts the youth!

During the last week, we had the opportunity to meet with our communities from Lliburn about the "Puente para la gente" survey. This will be the first survey for Latino communities in almost 20 years in Georgia. Read more about this here.

We announced Lalo Alcaraz as our Keynote Speaker for the 2023 Power Breakfast. Lalo was born in San Diego, California, to Mexican immigrant parents from Sinaloa and Zacatecas. The deadline for sponsorship is April 7, so take advantage of this chance to support or work!

CESAR CHAVEZ CONTEST WINNERS!

GALEO proudly announce the winners of the 2023 Annual Cesar Chavez Essay Contest. The organization celebrates all the submissions that uplifted the work of farmworkers and social justice activists of the Latinx communities and other marginalized communities.

The winners will be commemorated at our annual Cesar Chavez Day at the Capitol Room 125 on March 31st, 2023 at 11:00 am. All are welcome to attend. Alejandro Chavez, Deputy Director of GALEO & grandson of activist Cesar Chavez, will be the keynote speaker for Cesar Chavez Day at the Capitol.

Hola GALEO Familia,

This year, I am excited GALEO is celebrating 20 years of uplifting the POWER of our community. We continue our year-long celebration at the Power Breakfast on April 28th. We will have celebrated Chicano comic artist Lalo Alcaraz as our National Keynote speaker, but we are also excited to have State Representative Saira Draper as our Georgia Keynote Speaker. She is the only Hispanic female legislator in either of the chambers. I hope you will join us at the Power Breakfast to hear from our great speakers and help usher in our 20th year of developing leaders and standing strong with our brothers and sisters in the movement. I do hope you will join us and will see you soon!

Un abrazo,
Jerry
