

We are less than a week away from the runoff election! Go out and VOTE! Early voting ends tomorrow, so make sure you take the time to make your voice heard.

Civic Engagement Update

Our organizers have spoken with more than a thousand Cobb county voters, reminding them of the importance of going out to vote again for the December 6th runoff! We hope that you are also planning to go out and vote, and are doing your part to encourage your friends and neighbors to do the same!

Our organizers have also been busy in Chatham county, making sure that our Latinos there are energized and ready to get out and vote! It is important to us that all Latinos in Georgia are civically engaged, whether you live in metro Atlanta, or on the outer edges of our great state.

Today, tomorrow, and on December 6th, go out and vote with your family and friends, and let Georgia politics feel the Latino voter's power.

Hola GALEO Familia,

The runoff election is here! Our team is out in the community ensuring that we get out the vote once again!

If you haven't already, make sure you vote early and encourage your family and friends to make a plan to vote. Early voting ends on December 2nd, and the last day to vote is December 6th. Our communities deserve to have their voices heard.

GIL Statewide Graduation 2022

GALEO celebrated 22 Latinx leaders as they graduated from the GALEO Institute of Leadership on November 12th, 2022. Graduates of the cohort met once a month to discuss leadership and civic engagement, created research projects with action plans around issues that affect the Latinx-Hispanic communities in Georgia, learned from facilitators, and canvassed in our community to encourage voter registration and voter participation.

This year's cohort of the GALEO Institute of Leadership represents the diverse communities that the program serves. Diversity is cultivated and remains a core principle of the institute's mission at GIL, as the cohort included people of Native American and African American descent.

Veronica Maldonado-Torres, CEO & President of the GHCC, served as a keynote speaker. Maldonado-Torres encouraged the graduates to continue their path of leadership and to be role models for our communities.

Congratulations to all of our graduates!
